

Donna Norman-Carbone

Harper Alexander is devastated by a miscarriage even though she thought she never wanted to be a mother. Because of her husband's determination to create a family and her inability to carry a child to term, they consider alternative options.

As the result of a secret love affair, Callie Sebastian becomes pregnant. Her socialite mother is appalled by her teenage daughter's behavior. To protect the family's reputation, she sends Callie to a Catholic boarding school for wayward girls.

When Raina Edwin's third child starts school, leaving her with an empty house, she begins to long for another baby. Unfortunately, their farm will not support a new addition to their family. To fill the void, Raina starts a new business: selling honey.

As Harper, Callie, and Raina deal with their strife, their lives collide in unexpected ways. A revealed secret forces each of them to make choices that will alter their roles as mothers and daughters forever.

Book length: 330 pages, Categories: women's fiction, mother/daughter fiction

ISBN: 13: 978-1-958231-46-3. Pub Date: April 23, 2024

Red Adept Publishing

Available in paperback ($17.99) & ebooks ($9.99)

"If you like emotionally-driven dramas with multiple layers and social relevancy, you will love Of Lies and Honey by award-winning author Donna Norman-Carbone."

Reader Views, 5 star review

"An honest and well-considered look at the sweetness and stings of motherhood."

Kirkus Reviews

Donna Norman-Carbone, the award-winning author of All That is Sacred, published by Red Adept Publishing, has a passion for writing women's fiction that tugs at the heartstrings. Donna is also co-host of the podcast, Authors Talking Bookish, and a tour guide for the Bookish Road Trip. Her writing affiliations include membership of WFWA, WNBA, and CAPA.

Donna is an English teacher in a small CT suburb, where she and her husband have raised three children, two Labrador retrievers and a Siamese cat. In her spare time, she enjoys reading a good book on a sunny Cape Cod beach (her happy place), spending quality time with family and friends and traveling overseas.

www.donnanormancarbone.com

Contact Donna for book clubs, book talks, signings
and writing workshops

Visit her website to subscribe to her monthly newsletter for advance information, exclusive offerings & to read her blog

dncarbone727@gmail.com